

The Student Association of the Geneva Academy of International Humanitarian Law and Human Rights (ADHSA) in collaboration with the Geneva Academy of International Humanitarian Law and Human Rights (ADH) has the pleasure to invite you to their first:

Academic Debate 2009-2010

International Humanitarian Law (IHL) and International Human Rights Law – IHL as Lex Specialis ?

Intervening :

Professor Marco Sassòli
Professor Louise Doswald-Beck
Professor Andrew Clapham
Gloria Gaggioli (Moderator)

Tuesday, 13 April 2010 – 19.30h

UniMail, Salle 2160
Boulevard de Pont d'Arve 40

The relationship between International Human Rights Law (IHRL) and International Humanitarian Law (IHL) in times of armed conflict has been heavily debated in both academic and practitioner circles. The distinguished participants will expose the various understandings that exist on the argument that during armed conflict IHL is lex specialis in relation to IHRL, and will discuss with the audience some of the problematic aspects of the interface between IHL and IHRL.