

INTERNATIONAL HISTORY AND POLITICS BRUNCHES

The International History and Politics Brunches comprises a series of presentations by members of the International History and Politics Department at the Geneva Graduate Institute, during which professors, students, and visiting researchers are invited to present their projects, articles, books and thesis chapters in front of a small audience.

Taking place about 3-5 times per semester at the Graduate Institute, the Brunches have become a forum for intellectual exchange that offer presenters an opportunity to test their ideas in a friendly environment.
