

GLOBAL HEALTH CENTRE | GENEVA GRADUATE INSTITUTE

INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY BOARD

GENEVA
GRADUATE
INSTITUTE

GLOBAL HEALTH
CENTRE

CHAIR OF THE INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY BOARD

ILONA KICKBUSCH

Ilona Kickbusch is the Founder of the Global Health Centre at the Graduate Institute in Geneva. Her areas of expertise include the political determinants of health, health in all policies and global health. She advises countries on their global health strategies, trains health specialists, and is involved in German G7 and G20 health activities. She publishes widely and serves on various commissions and boards. Ilona is a member of the Global Preparedness Monitoring Board and Co-Chair of UHC 2030, and the Lancet and Financial Times Commission on "Governing health futures 2030: growing up in a digital world". She has had a distinguished career with the WHO. She was a key instigator of the Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion and WHO's Healthy Cities Network and has remained a leader in this field, most recently advising on WHO's activities related to Health in the SDGs. She was the Director of the Global Health Division at Yale University School of Public Health and responsible for the first major Fulbright Programme on global health.

INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY BOARD MEMBERS

ALLAN MALECHE

Allan Maleche is a dynamic leader, an advocate of the high court of Kenya and a human rights defender with over twelve years of experience in law, ethics, governance, policy, health and rights, including seven years managing rights-based programmes that protect affected, marginalised and vulnerable populations. He is currently serving as the Executive Director of Kenya Legal & Ethical Issues Network on HIV & AIDS (KELIN). He is a Co-chair of the UNAIDS Human Rights Reference group, and a former Board Member of the Developing Country NGO Delegation to the Global Fund Board, where he also served as Alternate Board Member. Allan is also a former member of the Global Fund's Audit and Finance Committee, and the former Chair of the Implementers Group of the Global Fund Board.

COLIN MCIFF

Colin McIff is Deputy Director of the Office of Global Affairs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Since 2010, he has chaired negotiations on some of the most sensitive issues facing the global health community. In the context of the World Health Organization, he has negotiated resolutions on non-communicable diseases, the role of the health sector in addressing interpersonal violence, on strengthening the International Health Regulations, and the Ebola resolution during the WHO Special Session. Before his posting as Health Attaché at the U.S. Mission in Geneva he was the Acting Director for Multilateral Affairs at the Office of Global Health Affairs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, leading U.S. negotiations on the Code of Practice on the International Recruitment of Health Personnel adopted by consensus at the 63rd World Health Assembly.

EMANUELE CAPOBIANCO

Emanuele Capobianco is the Director of Health and Care at the International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC). He leads the IFRC Global Health and Care Team that provides strategic and operational support to 192 National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies around the world in the areas of community health, emergency health and water/sanitation. He currently leads the IFRC global response to Covid-19. Before joining IFRC, Emanuele was the Deputy Executive Director of the Partnership for Maternal, Newborn & Child Health. He also worked with the Global Fund, the World Bank, UNICEF and WHO at country, regional and headquarters levels. He holds a Medical Degree from Italy, a Master in Public Health from Johns Hopkins University and an Erasmus Mundus' Master in International Humanitarian Action.

ESPERANZA MARTINEZ

Esperanza Martinez is a global and humanitarian health expert currently leading the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) Covid-19 crisis response. Prior to that, she was ICRC's Head of Health and responsible for the provision of essential health care services to people affected by armed conflict and violence in more than 80 countries. She is a medical doctor and general surgeon, trained in Colombia, and specialised in International Public Health and Health Management in Australia. Her experience includes over ten years of fieldwork in conflict-affected countries as well as work with UN agencies, government bodies and the private sector.

KELLEY LEE

Kelley Lee is a Tier 1 Canada Research Chair in Global Health Governance and Professor, Faculty of Health Sciences, Simon Fraser University. She was previously Professor of Global Health Policy at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. She has served in several leadership roles including co-director of a WHO collaborating centre, chair of a WHO expert committee, and associate dean. Her research focuses on how societies can effectively engage in collective action to address shared health risks. Over her career, she has been awarded almost $20 million in research funding from a broad range of major funders including NIH, ESRC, ERC, CIHR, WHO, Rockefeller Foundation and Wellcome Trust. She has published 15 books, 200+ papers and 60+ book chapters. She is currently leading the Pandemics and Borders Project, an international team analysing the use of cross-border health measures during Covid-19. She is also one of two Co-Directors of the new British Columbia Emerging Pathogens and Pandemics Institute.

MARINE BUISSONNIÈRE

Marine Buissonnière is an independent researcher and advisor in the fields of global health, health-related rights and humanitarian action. In this capacity, she currently works as Senior Advisor to the Prevent Epidemics team at Resolve to Save Lives (RTSL), and co-chairs Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) Transformational Investment Capacity. Until 2015, she was director of the Open Society Public Health Program. From 2003 to 2007, she served as Secretary-General of MSF International, prior to which she worked with MSF in the field. She sits on the Advisory Council of Last Mile Health and the Board of Directors of Grand Challenge Canada.

MICHEL KAZATCHKINE

Michel Kazatchkine has over 30 years of experience in the fight against AIDS as a leading physician, researcher, administrator, advocate, policy-maker, and diplomat. He attended medical school in Paris and has completed postdoctoral fellowships at St. Mary's hospital in London and Harvard Medical School. He is Professor of Immunology at Université René Descartes in Paris and has authored or co-authored over 500 publications. Professor Kazatchkine has played key roles in various organisations, serving as director of the national Agency for Research on AIDS in France (1998-2005), and as French ambassador on HIV/AIDS and communicable diseases (2005-2007). In 2007, Professor Kazatchkine was elected Executive Director of the Global Fund to fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, a position in which he served until March 2012. Between 2012 and 2017, he served as the UN Secretary General's Special Envoy on HIV/AIDS in Eastern Europe and Central Asia. Since 2018, he is the Special Advisor to the Joint UN Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS) for Eastern Europe and Central Asia. He is also a Senior Fellow with the Global Health Centre of the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, and a member of the Global Commission on Drug Policy.

OUTI KUIVASNIEMI

Outi Kuivasniemi is Director for International Affairs at the Ministry of Social Affairs and Health in Finland. During her 20 year career at the Ministry, Outi's focus has been on global and EU health and social policies and she is a senior level expert in global governance and financing. She has accrued wide understanding of issues around global health and multilateral collaboration, and has served in a number of WHO, World Bank and EU Expert Working Groups, especially relating to global public goods, health security, financing, governance and noncommunicable diseases. She has been actively working on improving global health security and capacity building for country preparedness. She has been instrumental in developing international cross-sectoral collaboration in health security through the Global Health Security Agenda (GHS) and the JEE Alliance, now called Alliance for Health Security Cooperation. She is currently working to improve global equitable access to Covid-19 vaccines through Finland's participation in the WHO Executive Board, CEPI Investors' Council, International Vaccine Institute's Board of Trustees, Gavi Vaccine Alliance and the European Union vaccine collaboration. Outi is a founding member of the Women in Global Health Finland Chapter. She holds a degree of Master in Political Sciences from the University of Åbo Akademi, Finland where she graduated in 1995 with international law as her major.

PRADEEP KAKKATTIL

Pradeep Kakkattil serves as the Director of the Office of Innovation at the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS). In this capacity, he is responsible for building and implementing an innovation culture designed to generate new and innovative solutions for the broader health and HIV response globally. He is also the founder of the Health Innovation Exchange (HIEx), a multilayered platform that connects governments, policy makers, innovators and investors to leverage innovations and technology towards scaling up access to health. Pradeep started his career in India as a print and television journalist and filmmaker. He gave up his media career when a close friend tested positive for HIV in the early 1990s and started to respond to the potential threat of HIV to people of his generation. Along with his colleagues, Pradeep helped design and establish early prevention programmes for sex workers, men having sex with men and transgender community in South India which served as a template for rapid scale up of India's key population prevention programmes. He has since worked in several countries in various capacities and has contributed to health, social empowerment and development and led the UNAIDS engagement and successful adoption by the UN General Assembly of the High-Level Political Declaration on AIDS in 2016.

ROHINTON MEDHORA

Rohinton Medhora is president of the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI) since 2012. He served on CIGI's former International Board of Governors from 2009 to 2014. Previously, he was vice president of programmes at Canada's International Development Research Centre. His fields of expertise are monetary and trade policy, international economic relations and development economics. Rohinton received his doctorate in economics in 1988 from the University of Toronto, where he subsequently taught for a number of years.

THOMAS ZELTNER

Thomas Zeltner has been Professor of Public Health at the University of Berne and is a Visiting Scientist at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health (Boston). He serves as Deputy Chair of the University Council of the Medical University of Vienna, and is the founder and first chairman of the WHO Foundation established in Geneva in May 2020. The WHO Foundation is a grantmaking organisation with the objective of addressing the most pressing global health challenges of tomorrow by raising significant new funding for WHO from nontraditional sources. He is the President of the UNESCO Commission of Switzerland. From 1991 to 2009, he has been the Director-General of the Federal Office of Public Health of Switzerland, the National Health and Public Health Authority, and Secretary of State for Health of Switzerland.

GENEVA
GRADUATE
INSTITUTE

GLOBAL HEALTH
CENTRE

Global Health Centre
Maison de la paix
Chemin Eugène-Rigot 2A
Case Postale 1672
CH-1211 Genève 1
graduateinstitute.ch/globalhealth

 globalhealth@graduateinstitute.ch
 @GVAGrad_GHC
 Global Health Centre
 @globalhealthcentre