Your Gateway to Global Economic Policy Careers

The Master in International Economics at the Geneva Graduate Institute offers a unique blend of rigorous academic training, real-world policy analysis, and unparalleled opportunities to interact with policymakers and financial market participants. Our program is specifically designed to prepare you for high-impact careers in international financial institutions, central banks and any role where advanced quantitative economic tools matched with a strong understanding of economic policy are crucial. About one-third of our students also use our master program as a springboard for pursuing a PhD in economics.
