Spotlight: The Geneva Challenge 2025

The Geneva Challenge

This year's edition of the Geneva Challenge focuses on Migration, with our GMC Faculty associate Prof. Martina Viarengo, chairing the Academic Steering Committee of this initiative.

This interdisciplinary competition invites graduate students worldwide to propose innovative solutions to complex migration issues.

The Transnational Life of Cuban Migrants in Spain

The centre congratulates Taehoon Lee on the successful defense of his thesis exploring how Cuban migrants in Spain navigate identity, mobility, and connection across borders.

The Labour Market Integration of Migrants in Europe

The GMC also congratulates Elise Hjalmarson on the successful defense of her PhD thesis, which offers new insights into the structural and social factors shaping migrants' access to employment in Europe.

About the Global Migration Centre

While our primary function is to lead policy and academic research, we also regularly organise, events, expert meetings and conferences. Through these various activities, we offer a unique interface between academia, the international community and the civil society. The distinctive features and assets of the GMC owe much to our focus on the transnational dimensions of migration and its interdisciplinary orientation in order to fully grasp the complexities of mobility in a globalised world.
