The Alumni Community Scholarship was established in 2013 to fund the academic and living expenses of a student in financial need for a year. Funds for the scholarship are collected through direct donations on the Alumni Scholarship webpage and also during a raffle and silent auction held at the annual Alumni Reunion, which reunites alumni from around the world each year. This year, the scholarship goes to Amrutha Somasekharan Nair completed her BA in Ayurvedic Medicine and Surgery and a Master's in Health Administration in India. She then worked for around four years at India's grassroots level, focusing on primary healthcare, sexual and reproductive health, and health system strengthening. She is now pursuing a master's degree in International and Development Studies with a specialisation in Global Health at the Institute. Through her work, she aims to improve health outcomes in vulnerable communities and achieve health equity, ensuring that everyone can access healthcare without financial hardship. Ultimately, Amrutha hopes to contribute meaningfully to community-centric global health initiatives.

"As a girl from a rural village in India, never in my wildest dreams have I thought of studying in a global university. This exposure has been a transformative experience, and it is the best gift I could have ever received (...) I am committed to making the most of this opportunity, not only for my personal growth but also with a deep-seated desire to give back to society, inspired by the generosity that has shaped my path. Thank you, from the depths of my heart, for being a crucial part of this transformative chapter in my life."

The 20th AAID prize (CHF2,000) for the best doctoral thesis is awarded this year to

Meenakshi Nair Ambujam

“Landless with my Title-deed: Rethinking Landless in Adivasi Life, Telegana, India”.
Defended in 2021 under the supervision of Shaila Galvin

Her thesis offers valuable insights into the complex ways in which state bureaucracies in India simultaneously produce land titles and landlessness.

Meenakshi received the Alumnae-i Community Scholarship in 2016 !

Christin Tonne

“Defending Democracy in the European Parliament: An Ethnography of Political Parties and Institutional Rules”.
Defended in 2022 under the supervision of Gregoire Mallard

Her thesis explores an understudied institution, using ethnography to shed light on its internal workings. Through an interactionist approach, she reveals how a democratic institution focused on the rule of law also provides a platform for the far-right, contributing to the normalization of illiberal ideas.
