

Signe Krogstrup | Classes of 1998 & 2003

Signe Krogstrup, a prominent economist and central banking leader, has devoted over two decades to advancing economic and financial policy making and stability nationally and globally. One of the three Governors of Danmarks Nationalbank, she brings extensive expertise from prior roles, including Head of Economics and Monetary Policy at Danmarks Nationalbank, Assistant Director at the Swiss National Bank (SNB), and Senior Advisor at the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Committed to international financial cooperation, in 2020 she joined the European Union's Economic and Financial Committee and the Nordic-Baltic Monetary and Financial Committee at the IMF as a member. Signe Krogstrup's academic writings have focused on monetary policy and international capital flows, underscoring her commitment to economic and financial resilience and global financial cooperation.

© Signe Krogstrup.

Signe Krogstrup has helped shape monetary policy and economic stability on both national and global stages, serving as a guiding voice at institutions like the IMF and the SNB. As an advocate for international financial cooperation, Krogstrup contributes her expertise to influential bodies like the EU Economic and Financial Committee.

© Signe Krogstrup.

As one of Danmarks Nationalbank's three Governors, Signe Krogstrup plays a crucial role in Denmark's monetary policy and financial stability, actively navigating global challenges to support a robust and resilient Danish economy.

© Signe Krogstrup.

Effective public communication is crucial for the legitimacy and credibility of independent central banks in democratic societies. Through engagement Signe Krogstrup ensures transparency and trust in the bank's policies, reinforcing its commitment to economic stability.

